JUNIOR SCHOOL TEACHER

Marsden Park Anglican College provides a learning environment where the strength and character of each individual is encouraged and celebrated.

Established in 2016 as a campus of Richard Johnson Anglican School, through strong growth and the introduction of the Senior School, from 2024 the campus will now operate as a stand-alone school, known as Marsden Park Anglican College. With over 500 students from Pre-K to Year 7 in 2024, by 2029 the school will operate from Pre-K to Year 12 with approximately 1200 students.

Our mission is to see young people develop a love of God, a love of life, a love of learning and a love for others. We are committed to providing opportunities for every individual all in the context of a joyful, safe and encouraging community.

As part of the Anglican Schools Corporation, Marsden Park Anglican College seeks to deliver affordable high- quality education, shaped by the Bible, to local families. The College is committed to providing excellence in education, seeing every student succeed academically, develop lives of rich character and enjoy an offering of co-curricular activities to pursue their passions.

THE POSITION

Applications are sought from energetic and highly skilled Senior School Teachers who are passionate about their craft, innovative in their approach and enjoy working collaboratively. This is an exciting opportunity for dynamic and flexible teachers who are keen to make a major contribution to the continuing growth and development of Marsden Park Anglican College.

The successful applicant will be willing to contribute to the co-curricular and pastoral life of the School and will be active in their own Christian faith and involved in their church.

ROLE SUMMARY

As a teacher, you will be responsible for creating a teaching and learning environment where students are at the heart of the classroom and emphasis is placed a love of God, a love of life, a love of learning and a love for others.

You will be expected to design and implement quality learning experiences, which address NESA curriculum requirements and individual student needs. MPAC Teachers will empower students as active agents in their own learning and include the student's world (family and community) in their educational journey, ensuring an holistic approach to excellence in education and develop lives of rich character.

THE CANDIDATE

The ideal candidate for this position will be a suitably qualified person, who has a love of young people and is keen to be an active part of the growth and development of Marsden Park Anglican College. They will have a passion for their craft and a desire to be part of a professional learning community. They will present a professional image, demonstrate an active Christian faith and be involved in their local church.
