Individual Music Tuition Tutors (Brass, Woodwind, Vocal & Percussion)

Richard Johnson Anglican School is a co-educational PreK to Year 12 Christian school with over 1200 students across two campuses. We are located in Western Sydney's growth corridor at our established Oakhurst Campus and in a beautiful setting at Marsden Park.

The care for each individual student is paramount at RJ and we seek to provide positive learning experiences in a motivating, inclusive and supportive environment. RJ's effective Christian teachers have been purposely selected for their genuine commitment to excellence in evidence-based teaching practice and their ability to be inspiring role models to our students. They aim to invest time and energy in each student's life and to equip them for success.

We are seeking experienced Brass, Woodwind, Vocal and Percussion/Drum Tutors to join our Oakhurst and Marsden Park Campuses, commencing from Term 2, 2022.

RJ's extended tuition (instrumental and vocal) programme offers individual instrumental lessons during the school day. An extensive number of students receive private music tuition at School. The school has some of the finest instrumental and vocal teachers from Sydney and our surrounding local areas. RJ's Performing Arts avenues are open to all students and structured to meet their developmental needs, be that beginner or virtuoso. Lessons are 30 minutes, 45 minutes or 1 hour in length. It is recommended that students of higher grades take one hour lessons to cover syllabus requirements.

Applicants should complete the Application for Employment (Teacher) document on the school website (Employment page) before emailing the application form and CV, transcripts and other relevant documents, with one of three referees being your current Church Minister, to:
